

Important Safety Information

⚠ WARNING Read and follow the safety information below. Failure to do so could lead to fire, electric shock, injury, or damage.

- Oculus Link is meant for use with a compatible Oculus headset and a PC that meets the recommended requirements and system specifications (see support.oculus.com/link). Do not use with devices or accessories that are not compatible.
  - Use with other devices or accessories may cause damage that is not covered by your limited warranty.
  - Follow all instructions and warnings provided with the Oculus system, whether provided in your Safety and Warranty Manual, in the headset, online at oculus.com/warnings, or in the Oculus application running on your computer.
  - Use Oculus Link consistent with the instructions and warnings provided by your computer's manufacturer. Failure to do so could cause damage to your computer, your Oculus headset, Oculus Link, or other property, or injury.
- Plug this product only into USB-C ports.
  - Ensure that ends are firmly plugged into devices before using.
    - Unplug by pulling at the plug at each end. Do not unplug by pulling the cord.
    - Unplug the cord when not in use with or charging your headset.
  - Do not attempt to plug a USB-C end directly into a USB-A port. This could damage the cord, your headset, your computer, or all three.

⚠ WARNING Shock hazard. Don't use Oculus Link if it appears damaged.

- Do not bend the blade or pins of the plug, insert sharp objects into the ends, or otherwise attempt to disassemble or modify Oculus Link.
- Don't tightly bend, pinch, or apply force to Oculus Link.
- Don't unplug Oculus Link with a moist or wet hand.
- Periodically inspect cable and connector tips for damage or signs of wear. Do not use if any part is damaged, cracked, or exposed.
- Keep the cord away from sources of heat, liquids, or moisture.
- Keep out of reach of children and pets. When using, arrange Oculus Link so that it is not a tripping or choking hazard.
- This cable is not a toy. Do not allow children to play with Oculus Link.
- For indoor use only.
