

Health & Safety

⚠ WARNING HEALTH & SAFETY WARNINGS: To reduce the risk of personal injury, discomfort, or property damage, please ensure that all users of this accessory carefully read the warnings below.

Before Using Your VR System

- It is important that you carefully read the Health and Safety Guide enclosed with your headset in addition to these warnings before using your VR system.
- Read and follow all setup and operating instructions provided with the headset.
- Visit the Oculus Safety Center at oculus.com/safety-center for the latest versions of the warnings for your accessory and your headset, including warnings in different languages, and for more information on the safe use of your VR system.
- This accessory is not a toy and should not be used by children under the age of 13.
- Use of the headset with glasses may increase the risk of facial injury if you fall or hit your face, and this accessory will not reduce those risks.
- To avoid transferring contagious conditions (like pink eye), do not share the headset or this accessory with persons with contagious conditions, infections, or diseases, particularly of the eyes, skin, or scalp. The headset and controller(s) should be cleaned between each use with skin-friendly non-alcohol, non-abrasive antibacterial wipes and with a dry microfiber cloth for the lenses. Do not use liquid or chemical cleansers on the lenses. Replace the facial interface on the headset if it becomes worn or cannot be cleaned.
- The headset and this accessory are worn next to your skin and scalp. Stop using the headset if you notice swelling, itchiness, skin irritation, loss of hair, or other skin reactions. If symptoms persist, contact a doctor.
- Facial Interface Care
  - To avoid damage to your facial interface, do not expose it to moisture, high humidity, high concentrations of dust or airborne materials, temperatures outside their operating range, or direct sunlight.
  - To avoid damage, keep your facial interface away from pets.